Freight Hustlers Defeat Box Makers

The Baltimore and Ohio freight house nine defeated the Lang and Criss boys in a fast and snappy game yesterday 3 to 2. This is the third time the two teams have played this summer and the championship game now stands two to one in favor of the freight house team. No sensational playing was witnessed yesterday, but the entire game was good because of the fact that all the men played consistently.

SPORT NOTES

Bobby Wallace and Eddie Plank are the guys who put the age in courage.

Nothing is impossible these days for the baseball scouts. They only had to dig about 12 feet in order to exhume Artie Hofman and Bobby Wallace.

Miller Huggins has acquired short-stop Bohn from the Tacoma club. Mebbe this bird will live down his name when he joins the Cardinals.

Answer to queries:—No. Eddie Plank who is now pitching for St. Louis is not the son of Eddie Plank who pitched for the Athletics in the dark ages.

It isn't the attitude of Colorado that worries Freddie Welsh. He's chiefly concerned about the attitude of the purse.

National League umpires have complained to President Tener that the Boston players are still using the hidden bawl trick from the bench.

DRIVER DE LUXE WANTS TO ADD WILSON AND HUGHES TO LIST OF NOTED PATRONS

"Burley" Clark, Driver for Celebrities.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 17.—If there is one man in the west more interested than any other in the coming western visits of President Wilson and Judge Charles E. Hughes, Republican presidential candidate, that man is "Burley" Clark.

"Burley" is aide and driver of the official car of G. A. Davidson, president of the Panama-California International Exposition at San Diego. He has one big ambition to realize before the exposition ends, and that is to pilot President Wilson and Judge Hughes—not at the same time, of course—in the luxury official car about the exposition grounds and through the city streets.

When he has done that he is willing to turn his attention to other things. He believes then that he will hold the record of driving the largest number of great and near great men and women in the last two years.

His list now includes 400 persons from South China every year. Mr. Yagyu says the Chinese emigrants are hard workers and very prosperous, some of them having amassed large fortunes. They carry on a brisk trade with South China and the prosperity of such places as Amoy and Swatow is doubtless largely due to remittances from emigrants which reach $50,000,000 a year. He recommended the establishment of an increased number of banking houses under joint Japanese and Chinese management to be located at trade centers in the South Seas and Singapore.

Commenting on the situation after the war, the financier said: "If economic warfare be solely determined by the amount of capital, Japan has no chance against most of the European powers. We need not, however, be pessimistic of our trade prospects, as there are other factors to be taken into consideration. In the probable economic revival: in the Far East or in the South Seas, Japan commands geographical as well as other advantages over her rivals. As regards Chinese trade, Westerners employ compradors; but, on the contrary, Japanese traders dispense with such intermediaries, coming themselves into direct contact with the Chinese. Besides, we have many things in common with the rest of the Oriental nations, which will count for much in competition with western countries."

Semi-Final Doubles In Y. M. C. A. Tennis

In the tennis tournament on the Y. M. C. A. courts at South Side Park Heintzelman and Miller. Rock and Riggs won in the semi-finals yesterday. There remains four matches until the finals in doubles are played and one in singles. The final in singles will be played off Saturday afternoon. It is probable that the finals in doubles will also be played that afternoon. No games but in doubles Heintzelman and Miller won from May and Hood, 6-4, 6-4. Rock and Riggs won from Jacobs and Bowman, 8-6, 6-4.

This evening probably will be the match between Haymond and Courtney, the winner of which will meet Miller in the finals Saturday. The rewards of the tournament have been placed on display at the Y. JAPS "DIGGING IN" IN GERMAN COLONY

South Sea Island Natives Are Being Taught Japanese.

TOKIO, July 16.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Government officials recently returned from the German South Sea Islands which were occupied by Japan after outbreak of the European war report that Japanese administration has been widely extended and that primary schools have been established in seven of the largest islands. The archipelago which is now ruled by Japan includes islands in the groups known as Marianne, Caroline and Marshall.

The native children are taught the Japanese language, arithmetic, singing and sewing. It is proposed to send a party of sixty leading natives to Japan during the summer or autumn. A regular line of steamers maintains communication with Japan while Japanese sailing vessels and launches run between the various islands. The actual disposition of the islands is to be decided at the peace conference which will follow the present war.

Mr. Kazuyoshi Yagyu, ex-president of the Bank of Formosa, insists that successful Japanese commercial expansion to the South is greatly dependent on successful co-operation with Chinese emigrants in the South Seas who number about 4,000,000, and they are increased by an exodus of 300,000 from South China every year.

Mr. Yagyu says the Chinese emigrants are hard workers and very prosperous, some of them having amassed large fortunes. They carry on a brisk trade with South China and the prosperity of such places as Amoy and Swatow is doubtless largely due to remittances from emigrants which reach $50,000,000 a year. Is the sport shirt to join the monocle as a fad with the English?

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, British ambassador to the United States, wears a sport shirt. And Lady Spring-Rice doesn't mind. In fact, she approves, it is said.

Also, Washington society is taking up the sport shirt. White shoes, white trousers and white socks are worn with them.

One Minute Talks with Ballplayers

FRED MERKLE, NEW YORK GIANTS.

"I've been playing alongside Larry Doyle for several seasons but never saw the old boy turn in such a string of brilliant fielding as he did during our last stay at home. Larry is a player who follows his associates."

"If they are slow he will be that way too; but let him become livened up as he has been by Herzog and Larry is there with the speedy stuff too. He has been everywhere, the last month. He has dug up hot drives and nailed line catches of the most sensational sort."

"I think his improvement has been next to marvelous."

BOBEY ROTH, CLEVELAND INDIANS.

"I certainly feel as if I owe Leslie Numamaker of the Yankees a vote of thanks for consenting to trade bats with me earlier in the season."

"At the start of the season I was using a bat I had obtained from Joe Jackson in a trade but one afternoon during preliminary practice I borrowed a big black bat from Numamaker who had been hitting to beat the band. I thought I might change my luck. Sure enough I started to hit 'em on the nose with my new 'Betsy' and have been going along good ever since."

"I suppose I'll hit a slump the minute I lose that stick."

BITS OF STATE NEWS

Under the head "Only Undertakers Object," the Charleston Mail prints the following: "In writing a letter to Dr. S. L. Jepson, state health commissioner, a few days ago in regard to the work he is doing at a number of West Virginia county fairs, Dr. H. B. Wood, one of the specialists in the department, told of the manner in which the people were becoming interested in the health exhibit of the state and in the literature being distributed from the department showing modern methods of preventing illness and death."

"Hundreds have visited the booth," Dr. Wood said, "and all have received my advice and the literature gladly, except the undertakers."

Last week one evening a party of Parkersburg people who were in camp along the Little Kanawha went in bathing. The ladies in the party with the exception of Mrs. Fred Wallace, wore their rings into the water. Mrs. Wallace took a five hundred dollar ring from her finger and securing a forked stick, placed the ring on one of the prongs and stuck the stick in the sand under the bank. Harvey R. Dunbar, one of the members of the party, came along some time afterwards, and having nothing else to do, sat on the beach and threw sticks into the river. Unfortunately he got hold of the stick on which the diamond ring was resting and flung it into the river. He was not aware of this fact until Mrs. Wallace discovered the loss after coming out of the river. An instantaneous search was made for the valuable bauble, and it was kept up all day, but without result. All came to the conclusion that the ring would never be recovered.

The next evening a number of the members of the party were enjoying the bathing, and Mrs. Wallace, after taking a swim, with several companions sat down in the edge of the water and were rubbing sand over each other, which they caught up in their hands under the water. Mrs. Wallace was about ready to leave the beach when she reached down under the water and gathering up a handful of sand, was rubbing it over the back of another bather, when she felt a hard substance, and on investigating, found that it was her diamond ring.

An organization is being perfected in Bluefield by some local business men for placing on the market a new form of insurance, which so far as known is not written anywhere in the world. The proposition is simply this: The owner of a theatre or motion picture show can get a policy covering each of his patrons against accident caused by fire, lightning, cyclone, tornado, collapse of the building or panic resulting from any cause. It is understood that each per-

The old phrase, "teaching the young idea how to shoot," will be carried out literally at Linsly Institute in Wheeling this winter. Plans are now being made for the establishment of an indoor rifle range at the school and instructions will be given to every cadet in the art of making every shot count. The school will probably join one of the school rifle clubs of America and be entitled to shoot for championship honors. The armory is large enough for a standard fifty foot range where 22 calibre rifles of the same weight and dimensions aside from the calibre can be used.
